

Monthly Forecasts (24 month)

The forecast study concerns the subject born on January 28 1955 at 22h00, Paris (75).

The forecast study begins on the month of September 2008.

This astral calendar has been drawn up according to the position in your birth sky during the next lunar periods (1 lunar period = 4 weeks), the Sun and six planets = three fast-moving planets (Venus, Mars and Mercury) and three slow-moving ones (Jupiter, Saturn and Uranus).

 The more important features are indicated by one two, or three asterisks.

By bringing to light the trends in your future and alerting you to periods which are favourable and others that are less so, this document will enable you to act when the time is ripe, or on the contrary, to be cautious.

In any case, you should not forget that, while the stars may exert an influence, they are not a determining factor, and that since man has free-will, he remains the master of his fate.

Attention

Certain paragraphs might be repeated in several periods. This is normal, and corresponds to the continuity, or the repetition of the astral configurations.

Period from 30 august to 29 september 2008

-1- During of entire period

The favourable position of the Sun in the twelfth house, which covers the world of our trials, leads us to expect that you will undergo these days in a state of seclusion and isolation.

While continuing to play your role in society, you will tend to withdraw, to hide your thoughts and cultivate your 'secret garden'. it may be that this attribute will find its proper outlet in some form of activity in which discretion and a sense of mystery are especially well suited.

-2- During of entire period

The first house, which represents your true self, is influenced by Mercury, Venus and Mars. The benign presence of these three planets should mark a development in activity of the three fields of your aptitudes--understanding, loving and willing.

In a way, you should feel your senses, your intelligence and your heart become more sensitive and acute at this time. hence you will observe in yourself a pleasant openness and receptiveness.

Period from 29 september to 28 october 2008

-1- During of entire period

The first house represents your aptitudes, temperament, inner self and character and in this case is seriously affected by the Sun.

In other words you will experience the highest coefficient of activity and attractiveness. This would be an excellent opportunity to take yourself in hand, to make the most of your assets. Your character as it is described in the psychological portrait in Astroflash assumes its most favourable aspects. You can rely on all your plus qualities emerging and need not worry overmuch about your weaknesses.

-2- During of entire period

Under the triple influence of Mercury, Venus and Mars on the second house (the sector governing your assets and personal fortune), you will feel a renewal of your aggressive spirit and an increase in your critical sense and debating abilities.

These positive faculties will be put to use to increase your capital assets. In addition, your artistic intuition and commercial instinct will flourish. You will see weaknesses, you will negotiate and you will argue--all sharply, as emotions dominate reason.

This quest for profit will become a major cause into which your entire being is passionately involved.

* -3- Toward the beginning of this period

During this period when the conjunction of the Sun and Mars will be passing through the position of Neptune at your birth, you can expect storms and upsets. Now, these may be wholly imaginary--not that their being so make them any less difficult to cope with, for your emotions will be hard to contain, whether or not they are justified. Should actual events transpire which disturb your established life pattern, then it's up to you to resolve confused situations and fight fire with fire.

* -4- Toward the beginning of this period

The dominant planetary influences at this time indicate a period of contradictory luck in which troubles galore could lead to limitless satisfactions. In your emotional life, a whole host of problems may arise requiring your keenest thinking and soundest judgement. Troubles too could crop up in your immediate environment, and here you must take care to stifle your habit of following the line of least resistance. Sometimes it's folly to take provisional solutions and double folly to ride the fence, trying to please everyone and pleasing no one.

When you know it's really best to commit yourself, go ahead and do so. there's also the chance of a platonic but warm friendship that could lead to complications.

* -5- Toward the beginning of this period

At this time, the problems and feelings characteristic of the planetary atmosphere will tend to call forth all your inner resources and balance. You'll be taking a rather jaundiced view of the world, and in reaction to this, feel an intensified and urgent need to be totally loved and to feel totally supported, with .00 per cent loyalty and devotion. Should this love be something less than perfect, you'll be apt to take stock of your life and feel you're missing a great deal, and wonder what's in store for you. There may be some satisfaction for those whose self-examination brings to light new reasons for believing in their ideal. For the rest, this may be a time of discovering untold spiritual values.

Period from 28 october to 27 november 2008

-1- During of entire period

Your mind concentrates on profit and your powers of realisation are accentuated by the presence of the Sun and Mercury in the second house, that which governs your personal fortune. You will find this an appropriate time to buy and sell, to trade or speculate.

This would be a good time to try to augment your assets, to sign deeds or make long-term contracts. Your sharpened commercial sense and business acumen should nonetheless not prevent you from showing your customary generous and even rather extravagant nature.

-2- During of entire period

It is your immediate associates who are involved in the third house, over which Venus and Mars are reigning. You will feel yourself inclined to form closer relationships with your neighbours or professional colleagues.

Either through correspondence or while on a trip you may form intimate contacts. You may also become closer to a brother, a sister or a quite disinterested third party for the purpose of profiting from common interests.

 -3- Toward the beginning of this period

This is your Venusian anniversary, meaning that Venus has returned to the position in the zodiac that it occupied at your birth.

This time will be apt to accentuate your sensitivity, somewhat distort your volatile feelings and in a way, blow up your affections.

You'll feel your heart beating at a different rhythm. Take care not to let down those who have proved their love.

* -4- Half-way through this period

The Sun will be making a favourable passage through the position held by Saturn at your birth.

From an astrological standpoint, this planet represents the darker side of your nature and the way you face up to life's more basic problems. Saturn has to do with your ability to do many things - to forget the past, to surrender present security for future gain, to abandon the acquired in order to march forward, to gladly lose in order to win, to die in order to live.

Saturn's influence will appear in its most constructive form. you will have the opportunity to simplify, consolidate and enrich your life. This is a time for serious thought, intellectual and spiritual meditation. A little effort in this direction would be worthwhile, for you will thereby come closer to the basic realities of life.

Period from 27 november to 27 december 2008

-1- During of entire period

Your mind will focus upon your close associates as the third house--that governing your relationship with associates--is influenced by the presence of the Sun, Mercury and Mars. This is a time when you can assert yourself positively among your associates, be they professional colleagues, neighbours, brothers and sisters or other relatives.

This would be a propitious time to launch new projects and to make yourself felt in professional matters. You should master your impetuosity and channel your energies in order to make the most of that part of you which is canniest and most clear-sighted.

-2- During of entire period

Doubtless you will feel the happy influence of Venus on your home life--symbolized in this case by the fourth house which represents your family. You will be in agreement with those around you, and will 'hit it off' with those who share your home. In this time, too, you will feel impelled to improve your surroundings--to re-decorate your house. Your ideas in the aesthetic field would be very suitable should you be house-hunting and if fortune has already smiled on you in this respect, then you will no doubt embellish the lodgings you already have. You will fully enjoy beautifying and improving.

You will feel no need to go out, as you find all your pleasures in the cosy comforts of home.

 -3- Half-way through this period

The Sun in harmony will now be passing through the position held by Venus in the sky of your birth.

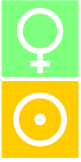

This is the time of year when the "venusian" aspect of your nature blossoms - that is, your sentimental ties, your happiness from being loved, the gregarious side of you which likes to be flanked by friends and which entertains happily at home.

During this time, you can more or less count on your feelings to assert themselves and flourish. Your heart may turn flip flops, either from a new flame or from the intensification of a current relationship. You may feel very content due to the happy family atmosphere at home, and you may find some satisfaction in the housing field. Definitely, your love life will benefit from a stroke of luck.

* -4- Half-way through this period

Congratulations, these are quite obviously lucky days. If you've been unhappy or suffering, chances are that the Sun will once again shine on your life. If all has been well with you, then this beneficial turn will bring on extra blessings - new heart conquests, perhaps monetary rewards or success. Here's where your luck lies, so make the most of it.

* -5- Half-way and towards the end of this period

Celestial Mars in harmony now returns to a conjunction with Venus in the sky of your birth.

As this configuration stresses your sensitivity and sensual excitability, it may lead to warmer affections and even to intense passion.

Generally speaking, this is experienced in a rekindling of an amorous flame. Desires intensify, affections become more demonstrative, one's heart-felt desires beckon more urgently, relationships grow warmer. This trend could also be directed outside your domestic circle, with your friends, for instance. You'll feel a tingling appreciation and zest for all life's pleasures.

Period from 27 december to 26 january 2009

-1- During of entire period

Your home is a privileged spot. The fourth house, the symbol of home, is influenced by two planets, Mercury and Mars, and this is intensified by the presence of the Sun in this sector.

Changes may occur and in your family life relations may be strengthened. A new pattern of authority may emerge, there will be a chance to create the spirit of revolt. these will be delicate weeks in which you should use all your ability--you'll need it to push through the reforms you want.

-2- During of entire period

During these days of emotional uproar you must beware. Your appetite for life and your will to love, if expressed too vociferously, could be the reason behind your rebuffs.

The unfavourable position of Venus in the fifth house, that which governs pleasure and love, leads us to advise you to exercise extreme caution. so long as this astrological situation holds, your judgment will be slightly off. Your implicit trust in whoever attracts you and your desire to believe that everything is perfect thus makes you liable to be the victim of illusions you yourself have created.

Period from 26 January to 25 February 2009

-1- During of entire period

The Sun will now act favourably on the fifth house which governs the world of creation and recreation. With your wish to please and your intense need for sociability, you will be attracted to all that is brilliant and spectacular, to leisure activities and the arts. You will find success through your hobbies. You will be tempted by speculation and this will probably be fortunate. During this period your instincts will not let you down. Such a relaxed atmosphere will also give you increased sensitivity regarding teaching and education. This would be a good time to take an interest in a child, to get to know him and give him a helping hand.

-2- During of entire period

You should devote great attention to your home, for the fourth house of which it is the symbol is influenced by the two planets Mars and Mercury. Hence you will find yourself impelled to make some changes at home--perhaps establish new rules for instance.

Take care not to abuse your authority (if your position allows you to do so) even when this wielding of power seems called for. Weigh the reasons behind your desire to move-- or in fact the undertaking of any real-estate operations. be tolerant and try to make harmony reign within your home.

-3- During of entire period

Venus will be in discord in the seventh house, and you should therefore be careful, for your happiness may be seriously compromised both in your home and social life.

This is hardly the best time to undertake agreements or associations or to sign contracts, all of which fall within the field of the seventh house. Consequently it would be better to avoid all engagements during this time, and to postpone to a later date all proposed joint action or collaboration.

 -4- Half-way through this period

At this time, the dominant configurations stress your inborn propensity to lead a rich and varied social existence. There'll be continuous meetings, gatherings and discussions pulsating with intellectual and cultural fireworks. Yet though all this activity is very much your cup of tea, there may be a severe disadvantage which is that you might feel your pride has been wounded, that there's been a challenge to your own self-image or possibly even an out and out attack. Thus, events at this time could assume the aspect of a dual, a huge obstacle that you dread tangling with and yet that you must overcome lest it overcome you. Here again, you'll need to take stock of your fighting capabilities and your adaptability to new situations.

* -5- Half-way through this period

To be quite frank, this isn't a particularly fun time for you. As you'll be living at a high emotional pitch, you may run into some trouble with the object (or objects) of your affections. Briefly, this is a time when disappointments and minor annoyances may be amplified to an exaggerated degree. If you feel that your toes have been trod on perhaps it's because you dared someone to tread on them. Shrug off petty irritations, be too big to be little. During this time your health may require a check-up or protective measures, particularly as to your digestive system and glands. There may also be some upset to your hormonal balance. Have your metabolism checked, if you feel unwell.

* -6- Half-way and towards the end of this period

Although the dominant configurations indicate this will be a promising period for your affections, there'll also be some tension and conflict accompanying the pleasure. You may find yourself involved in situations containing as many causes for irritation as for rejoicing-as for example, some unwanted relative of your loved one accompanying you both on an outing. Now, however you take this period is up to you, you can so dwell on the drawbacks that you fail to enjoy the advantages. After all, life is seldom an unalloyed pleasure, even the happiest moments often are tinged with melancholy. So concentrate on the good parts, on the highs rather than the lows of this term.

Period from 25 february to 26 march 2009

-1- During of entire period

During these days you'll experience a renewal of energies, especially in your professional life.

The sixth house which symbolizes this field is under the benign influence of the Sun. Your vitality will zoom and even in illness you'll be blessed with fantastic recuperative powers.

It's not unlikely that you'll receive a promotion at this time. an increase in your powers of decision, helped by your ambition and alertness will enable you to take on added responsibility, particularly if it means more subordinates.

-2- During of entire period

You will feel restless and excitable due to a sudden rise in your aggressive tendencies. The fifth house which governs pleasures and speculation will be strongly influenced at this time by the presence of Mercury and Mars. Your zest for life and conquest, your proneness for dangerous games will be joined with a tendency to minimize risks both in sports and business. Yet despite all you'll get through this phase without any serious consequences.

-3- During of entire period

Venus is in excellent position and exerts a benign influence on the seventh house which presides over the groups or associations to which you belong. Thus the planet of love reigns over the sector governing marriage, and you will find happiness in your married life if you are fortunate enough to be married, as well as in your professional life.

This will be a time when conflicts will diminish in importance, a time of reconciliation and friendly agreement. This would also be a propitious time to make up your mind about someone close to you. This may be a colleague, an associate or, if you are still single, the person with whom you expect to share the rest of your life.

 -4- Half-way through this period

Characteristic planetary influences right now will probably tend to intensify your love of discussion and exchange of ideas. Battling wits is all very well but remember that at this time you'll tend to be overly critical, to the point of alienating your friends. Take care not to get people's hackles up over nothing, and be sure not to deepen any differences of opinion that may exist between you and your spouse.

 -5- Half-way through this period

Atmosphere similar to that of the paragraph -5- of the previous period

* -6- Towards the end of this period

Atmosphere similar to that of the paragraph -6- of the previous period

Period from 26 march to 25 april 2009

-1- During of entire period

The Sun, Mercury and Venus influence the seventh house, that which governs the world of your partnerships and associations. In addition to the harmonious atmosphere that you will find among your friends and acquaintances, you will probably find that your natural intuition is at its peak. You will work flexibly in the pursuance of your own interests and you will be helped by your personal attraction.

This would also be a favourable moment to extend your sphere of influence, to seek new and useful friends or even to ask for the help of official circles.

-2- During of entire period

Caution is advisable, for Mars, discordant in the sixth house, malevolently influences the field of your professional activity.

Your energies will be badly organized, your belligerence, carping spirit and ill-considered reflection may get you in trouble. In this feverish climate you must redouble your patience in regard to colleagues and superiors. Take care how you manoeuvre your life as you take care how you manoeuvre your car.

 -3- Toward the beginning of this period

During this brief time, life will seem a rushing stream, sweeping you, your ambitions and even whims along at a fantastic pace. You will experience a glorious surge of passion, with not the slightest doubt of your own attraction. With your generous and vital intensity, you can safely force events to achieve your desired ends.

 -4- Half-way through this period

The passage of the conjunction of Venus and Mars through the descendant at your birth means that there will be a visible change in your relationship with friends or, most probably, your family and colleagues at work. During this period you'll have misunderstandings, none of them very serious, to clear up or at least differences of opinion to reconcile. One of the unusual facets of this situation is that it indicates both argument and agreement. A bitter quarrel might end in a better understanding than before. You'd do well to bear in mind the feelings of others, especially those of your spouse.

 -5- Half-way and towards the end of this period

A busy period if not a hectic one where your social life is concerned, feeling skittish as a young colt you'll want to throw off any burdensome alliance--and in your present frame of mind they will all seem burden-some. You will fret under any sort of chafing restriction--even any tacit sort of understandings that might, conceivably, be for your own good. Here, tension could grow into open conflict and--perish the thought--even litigation. But all we can advise you is to prepare for the unexpected and avoid the worst by keeping a tight grip on your volatile emotions. Remember that responsibility is the hallmark of maturity and a necessary part of life.

Period from 25 april to 24 may 2009

-1- During of entire period

The eighth house, the sector of crises and change, is under the benign influence of the Sun. This will mean financial gain as the result of an association or union particularly for women, and it may mean an inheritance.

During this time your mind will be turned to premonitions. You will acquire knowledge through dreams, and you may possibly be extremely lucky at this time.

-2- During of entire period

You will probably be nonchalant and sceptical. Actually it is to be feared that the poor position of Mercury in the ninth house at this time may affect your higher problems which are the general attributes of this house.

Your creative powers, while not really diminished, will be less than they ordinarily are. This may result in conflicts and struggle and may lead you to make mistakes in your daily life. You will also show a tendency to change your mind frequently. Postpone until another time any voyage you may be tempted to make.

-3- During of entire period

Sympathies and antipathies in your relationships with others will be of major importance. The seventh house, that which presides over your development within your own surroundings, is under the double influence of Venus and Mars at this time. Your behaviour may take the form of sudden infatuations or on the contrary instinctive rejections.

There is considerable danger that you may be the dupe of your own emotional judgments. On the other hand, this tendency may operate in your favour. patronage may suddenly appear spontaneously and uncalculatedly, more as the result of emotions than of pure reason.

 -4- Toward the beginning of this period

Now comes a time influenced by celestial Mars, passing through its conjunction with the Moon in the sky of your birth. This will accentuate your instincts, your animal vitality, the pressure of your desires and the fever of your passions. It tends to heat up the atmosphere, bring your imagination to a boil, illuminate your whole existence.

Anger, impulsiveness, impatience, imprudence, turbulence - you may give in to strong emotions and sensations, the outward manifestations of inner anxiety. You may allow your bad humour, irritability, unhappiness or hostility to show. Then again, you may also get a kick out of taking risks. This would apply particularly to your love life, but also to your finances, your job and even your health.

 -5- Half-way through this period

Atmosphere similar to that of the paragraph -3- of the previous period

Period from 24 may to 22 june 2009

-1- During of entire period

Distant trips, relationships with foreign lands or with foreign peoples may mark these days when the Sun and Mercury are in the ninth house, that which governs long trips.

However, the meaning of this sector is also symbolical. Thus your creative imagination may be reawakened. You may consider problems of a higher nature or ideas which will lead you away from your usual way of thinking.

This is a good time in which to think big.

-2- During of entire period

Venus and Mars are passing through the eighth house, that which governs crisis and change.

This will be a touchy time though unexpected gains are possible. you may experience a state of depression and be subject to worries caused by your spouse or an associate. Quarrels may arise over questions of sharing.

Period from 22 june to 22 july 2009

-1- During of entire period

The tenth house covers the social world, your career, reputation and honours. It is in this part of the sky that the Sun will be at this time.

As this is a favourable position, it promises to be an excellent period in which to improve your social or professional position. It is a period of success. Your will to power is in this case in harmony with the world in which it evolves.

Successes will raise you and confirm you in your job. If you yourself are not working, the luck predicted for this period will come to your partner.

-2- During of entire period

You will probably be nonchalant and sceptical. Actually it is to be feared that the poor position of Mercury in the ninth house at this time may affect your higher problems which are the general attributes of this house.

Your creative powers, while not really diminished, will be less than they ordinarily are. This may result in conflicts and struggle and may lead you to make mistakes in your daily life. You will also show a tendency to change your mind frequently. Postpone until another time any voyage you may be tempted to make.

-3- During of entire period

Atmosphere similar to that of the paragraph -2- of the previous period

* -4- Towards the end of this period

Now the Sun will again be passing in harmony through the conjunction of Jupiter and Uranus in the sky of your birth.

Combined, the presence of these two planets indicates a definite proneness in your personality to communicate your emotions, to have your way and to insist on your ambitions.

Therefore, you'll feel yourself buoyed along by optimism and self-confidence, power and boldness, all of which may impel you to play "double or quits" when it comes to your dearest ambitions and plans. Here luck will be with you to give you a boost in any new adventure, whether financial, professional or whatever. You will be able to take another 'giant step forward', and this new surge of energy will serve you well.

Period from 22 july to 20 august 2009

-1- During of entire period

The eleventh house, that which deals with friendships and patronage, will be under the combined influence of the Sun and Mercury.

Your relationships with friends, which are governed above all by the planet Mercury, will be accentuated in all ways by the presence of the Sun, and this will make this period a particularly favourable time to establish profitable contacts. You will not be liable to any excess

-2- During of entire period

A love and attraction for all things distant and emotions tinged with mysticism is what you will probably experience when Venus and Mars are together in the ninth house, the sector of the sky which governs trips abroad and intellectual speculations of an elevated nature.

Your reasoning will be passionate and your mind will tend to idealize things. The emotions you experience will be far greater than normal.

* -3- Towards the end of this period

At this time, the planetary situation will tend to encourage your talent for original creative efforts, thus playing an important part in furthering your career. Also, a stroke of pure luck, or a sudden triumphant appearance in the limelight could encourage your audacity.

You'll enjoy a heady new sense of power, a feeling that your accomplishments place you well above the common mass of humanity. But watch out, such sensations could give rise to rash over-optimism or to an inflated estimate of your abilities.

Period from 20 august to 18 september 2009

-1- During of entire period

The field of affinities, friendship and protection, that is to say the eleventh house, will be protected by the Sun's excellent position.

You will be well liked by those in authority or your superiors. this happy situation, in which your personality will shine, may play a decisive role in your fate. All sorts of contacts will provide you not only with emotional satisfaction but considerable material support as well.

-2- During of entire period

During these days the first house will be influenced by the discord of Mercury, and this is the house which deals with your personality, your inner being.

You should carefully reread what is said about your intellectual abilities in your Astroflash portrait, for this tells what astrology has been able to deduce from the position of Mercury at your birth. At this particular time it will certainly have a baleful effect--accentuating your mercurial qualities, magnifying your defects and intensifying instinctive, earthy drives to the prejudice of reason and considered judgment. This will be a confused period where intellect gives way to the bestial forces of nature.

-3- During of entire period

The realm of social success, that which is governed by the tenth house in astrology, is in this case influenced by the simultaneous presence of Venus and Mars. Impetuous emotions may be the cause of developments in your career.

Extra-professional factors may also play a part. You may seek honours and fight to obtain them. you will be fighting on all fronts, and will not leave to chance alone the role of pleading your cause. You will use all your powers of charm and seduction and your reputation will be of great service.

It may even help you to combat criticism.

* -4- Toward the beginning of this period

Atmosphere similar to that of the paragraph -3- of the previous period

* -5- Toward the beginning of this period

Your projects should progress during this period, if you have laid the groundwork sufficiently well. Assuming that you have, you must remember during the time of success to keep a cool head, in order not to abuse the power given to you. Don't act arbitrarily, keep a keen sense of justice and fair play. Sometimes you're inclined to think too big, that is, to dream up grandiose schemes without making a realistic appraisal of your chances for success.

Period from 18 september to 18 october 2009

-1- During of entire period

It is in the first house that concerns your inner self and upon which your personality is based, that the Sun and Mercury will be found. You should refer to the paragraph in your Astroflash psychological portrait dealing with the position of Mercury at your birth. The intellectual aptitudes as defined astrologically will doubtless be sharpened at this time. You will then be aware of a more open outlook.

You will have a more reasoned view of your own capabilities and potentialities, and your alert, mobile and varied mind will adapt into whatever reality. Your brain rules your heart at this time, particularly if your ascendant is in Gemini, Virgo or Leo.

-2- During of entire period

Venus will be in discord with the eleventh house which influences the world of your friendships and social contacts.

This impels us to believe that you may run into some friction where your friends are concerned. There may be a change, especially if your partner now only offers companionship rather than love. On the other hand, you may become estranged from a friend. Between these two dates be very selective in choosing new companions. A recently formed acquaintance ship may turn out to work against your best interests.

-3- During of entire period

The presence of Mars in discord with the tenth astrological house will cause a certain amount of conflict in your professional and social life.

Your job is concerned. Criticism, rivalry and an inability to finish things will exaggerate your aggressive tendencies, and you will be apt to throw yourself into struggles which are oftener than not futile.

Social events will take on importance during this period, and these fluctuations will affect your stability. This will be due partly to outside forces, politics for instance, and shocks stemming from the international situation.

* -4- Toward the beginning of this period

This is a fortuitous time for you, when you'll feel appreciated and admired for your own sake, and not for what you consciously do to be liked. You won't feel any need to dissemble or play politics, just make the most of your unique traits that distinguish you from others.

During this period you can expect success in your most personal commitments, since you'll be your most natural and appealing self. you'll feel very well disposed toward your fellow man these days.

 -5- Half-way through this period

Atmosphere similar to that of the paragraph -5- of the previous period

Period from 18 october to 16 november 2009

-1- During of entire period

During these days the Sun is in the second house which governs your assets and acquisitions--in other words the house on which your personal fortune depends. In your case the Sun's influence will be positive--which is to say that during these weeks you will find a new power of achievement. This is a propitious moment to negotiate and to take interest in financial operations. Use your innate intelligence to exploit this favourable situation. A word of warning, though = don't let overconfidence lead you astray. Avoid rash generosity and wasteful extravagance and don't be like those gamblers who after a sudden windfall end up losing their pile because they trusted too blindly in their luck.

-2- During of entire period

Mercury and Venus are in an interesting position in the first house, that which represents your personality, your inner self and your temperament.

Emotion and intellect will be balanced, with an uplifting optimism so that you will be ready to appreciate all that is harmonious and beautiful. this euphoria is especially favourable to the development of such subjects as Taurus, Libra, Gemini and Virgo.

-3- During of entire period

The realm of friendship is affected by the favourable presence of Mars in the eleventh house which reigns over our intimate relationships.

The friendships you enjoy will be open, frank and demonstrative. friends of good will acting freely without ulterior motives may make generous offers.

You may accept without misgiving the hand that is generously held out to you.

* -4- Half-way through this period

At this time, the problems and feelings characteristic of the planetary atmosphere will tend to call forth all your inner resources and balance. You'll be taking a rather jaundiced view of the world, and in reaction to this, feel an intensified and urgent need to be totally loved and to feel totally supported, with .00 per cent loyalty and devotion. Should this love be something less than perfect, you'll be apt to take stock of your life and feel you're missing a great deal, and wonder what's in store for you. There may be some satisfaction for those whose self-examination brings to light new reasons for believing in their ideal. For the rest, this may be a time of discovering untold spiritual values.

Period from 16 november to 16 december 2009

-1- During of entire period

The Sun and Mercury are in the third house which governs your relations with your environment and makes this a favourable moment for you to act flexibly with those about you--your family, your brothers, sisters or others such as colleagues and neighbours. This magnetism applies equally to all personal contacts. Do not hesitate to travel if necessary. You may utilize your magic spell through correspondence, letters and reports. What you write will be convincing. It's an exceptionally favourable period for journalists, advertising men and writers.

-2- During of entire period

During these days when Venus is acting on the second house which symbolizes your assets and possessions, you may be led to spend extravagantly.

During these weeks it would be a good idea if you struck from your budget all capricious purchases, fashionable or frivolous articles or luxury goods. Stick to the basics. Despite all these temptations to spend. However, you may also profit at this time. This may come from "marginal" activities, not that these would be illegal but simply outside your usual occupation.

-3- During of entire period

Since Mars clashes with the eleventh house which reigns over our friendships and close relationships, you should not expect good things to happen in this field. Either you will deceive or be deceived, or you will either impose a strain on your friends or be subject to their laying down the law.

This will be an interim of senseless involvement followed by quarrels--as well as passionate outpourings that turn into violent ruptures. beware of infatuation and sudden crazes for people. Such whirlwind attachments inevitably don't last long.

* -4- Toward the beginning of this period

You may possibly be in a black mood. This lacklustre feeling may seem to have no obvious cause, though more likely some comparatively minor disturbance is its root - a love spat, moral doubts, financial embarrassment, uncertain health. Beware of your tendency to susceptibility, your passion to lie down and allow events to get the best of you.

* -5- Towards the end of this period

The Sun in harmony will now be passing through the position held by Venus in the sky of your birth.

This is the time of year when the "venusian" aspect of your nature blossoms - that is, your sentimental ties, your happiness from being loved, the gregarious side of you which likes to be flanked by friends and which entertains happily at home.

During this time, you can more or less count on your feelings to assert themselves and flourish. Your heart may turn flip flops, either from a new flame or from the intensification of a current relationship. You may feel very content due to the happy family atmosphere at home, and you may find some satisfaction in the housing field. Definitely, your love life will benefit from a stroke of luck.

Period from 16 december to 15 january 2010

-1- During of entire period

The area of family life is here well favoured by the position of the Sun and Mercury in the fourth house which represents your home life. Thus it's a grand time to organize the rhythm of your daily routine on a new basis.

Your health and social balance will benefit from the climate of domestic peace. You will consciously obey actual parental advice or simply the memory of it. It's a choice moment for changing residences or to buy land or that secondary cottage.

-2- During of entire period

Venus will be reacting on the third house which covers the field of your relations with those about you. Because of its position, this planet will have a benign influence on your relationship with those close to you, especially your parents. Understanding will blossom.

Your heart will feel a kind of brotherhood tinged with love--the sort of feeling you might have had for your cousins during your adolescence. You will think love impossible without correspondence. Your mind and thoughts will be turned toward art and literature. On a mundane plane you will seek out someone else, even if this involves a trip.

Atmosphere similar to that of the paragraph -3- of the previous period

 -4- Toward the beginning of this period

Atmosphere similar to that of the paragraph -5- of the previous period

Period from 15 january to 14 february 2010

-1- During of entire period

You will feel a strong parental influence = it is a time when you will return to the source of family traditions.

You will gain a better understanding of paternal influence. You will find inner joys from your home symbolized in this case by the fourth house on whom the Sun, Mercury and Venus exert an effect at this time.

A sweet feeling of harmony will make your home life delightful. the balance that this contentment brings may help consolidate your social status.

-2- During of entire period

The realm of friendship is affected by the favourable presence of Mars in the eleventh house which reigns over our intimate relationships.

The friendships you enjoy will be open, frank and demonstrative. friends of good will acting freely without ulterior motives may make generous offers.

You may accept without misgiving the hand that is generously held out to you.

 -3- Toward the beginning of this period

The passage of the Sun and Venus through the position of the Sun at your birth indicates that you should succeed in the project you've long been working on. It's important though to keep your conscience clear, and remain faithful to your principles. Some of the satisfaction to be enjoyed during this period may come from the homage paid by your nearest associates. Use your formidable energies in a good cause.

* -4- Towards the end of this period

The Sun and Venus will now be passing through the position of Mercury at your birth, with the result that the atmosphere will be favourable to both your social relationships and your intellectual, cultural and artistic interests. Simultaneously diplomatic and communicative, you'd do well to follow your first inclinations. You'll be persuasive, able more than ever before to give your ideas and arguments the tone, form and expression they deserve. So it's to your advantage to be outgoing and to seek public contacts, you'll have success within your own sphere of influence.

Period from 14 february to 15 march 2010

-1- During of entire period

The Sun and Mercury react favourably on the fifth house, that which covers creation and recreation. The presence of these celestial bodies will encourage a brilliant social life for you which will provide pleasures as profitable as they are enjoyable.

Chancy financial enterprises will be supported by the sureness of your instincts. There'll be a trend to loving friendships. You'll find yourself understanding children better, knowing what makes them tick. you'll get a lot out of your hobby. Games, especially those based more on skill than luck, will appeal.

-2- During of entire period

You'll have an emotional link which will attach you to your work.

This will mean a renewed interest in what you are doing as well as an interest in someone in your same field. You will show this person your professional esteem at the very least.

The kindly influence of Venus on the sixth house, that governing jobs, shows clearly that there will be this mixture of sentiment and business. your job may engage your artistic aptitudes to a greater or less degree.

-3- During of entire period

Since Mars clashes with the eleventh house which reigns over our friendships and close relationships, you should not expect good things to happen in this field. Either you will deceive or be deceived, or you will either impose a strain on your friends or be subject to their laying down the law.

This will be an interim of senseless involvement followed by quarrels--as well as passionate outpourings that turn into violent ruptures. beware of infatuation and sudden crazes for people. Such whirlwind attachments inevitably don't last long.

* -4- Toward the beginning of this period

The Sun will make a favourable pass through the position held by Mercury at your birth.

Astrologically, Mercury represents the cerebral world of your ideas and thoughts = the ways and means you employ in adapting yourself and coping with situations, your habits of establishing relationships with those about you, your methods of organization your accumen from a material standpoint and the degree of development in your mental processes.

For some time, then, this mercurial aspect will thrive, allowing you to accomplish much. It will encourage you to travel and make contacts, look up old friends, arrange business deals, take on new acquisitions, set your ideas in order and turn correspondence into a pleasure rather than a chore. Indeed, your intelligence and good taste will enable you to work wonders.

* -5- Towards the end of this period

Although the dominant configurations indicate this will be a promising period for your affections, there'll also be some tension and conflict accompanying the pleasure. You may find yourself involved in situations containing as many causes for irritation as for rejoicing-as for example, some unwanted relative of your loved one accompanying you both on an outing. Now, however you take this period is up to you, you can so dwell on the drawbacks that you fail to enjoy the advantages. After all, life is seldom an unalloyed pleasure, even the happiest moments often are tinged with melancholy. So concentrate on the good parts, on the highs rather than the lows of this term.

Period from 15 march to 14 april 2010

-1- During of entire period

The Sun, Mercury and Venus influence the seventh house, that which governs the world of your partnerships and associations. In addition to the harmonious atmosphere that you will find among your friends and acquaintances, you will probably find that your natural intuition is at its peak. You will work flexibly in the pursuance of your own interests and you will be helped by your personal attraction.

This would also be a favourable moment to extend your sphere of influence, to seek new and useful friends or even to ask for the help of official circles.

-2- During of entire period

The realm of friendship is affected by the favourable presence of Mars in the eleventh house which reigns over our intimate relationships.

The friendships you enjoy will be open, frank and demonstrative. friends of good will acting freely without ulterior motives may make generous offers.

You may accept without misgiving the hand that is generously held out to you.

 -3- Toward the beginning of this period

Atmosphere similar to that of the paragraph -5- of the previous period

 -4- Half-way through this period

The Sun will be making a favourable passage through the Moon-Mars conjunction in the sky of your birth.

In your horoscope, this astral duo means that your personality will be under the influence of your instincts - anger as well as passion will spur you on, inspire you, excite you and make your life tumultuous.

Consequently, the emotions playing on you will generally be violent. You may be swept away by passionate urges far beyond your usual drives, particularly in regard to your love life. Generally speaking you should not hesitate to utilize your powers of persuasion.

At the extreme limit, your strength should lie in your spontaneity.

Period from 14 april to 14 may 2010

-1- During of entire period

The eighth house which governs crisis and change will be influenced by the simultaneous presence of the Sun and Mercury.

Quite probably, you will take stock of yourself during this time, question your future and draw up a balance sheet between your dreams and actual fact.

Important business affairs may be at stake at this time which may determine the course of your existence over a long period of time.

-2- During of entire period

The ninth house which deals with everything distant, including long trips and lofty thoughts, is favourably influenced by Venus and as a result, you will enjoy love, affection, sympathy and the good will of others.

You may meet love during a trip, in a foreign land or among strangers. Your emotions will tend toward spirituality, and you will seek to come closer to some ideal. Your religious fervour may be enhanced.

-3- During of entire period

Since Mars clashes with the eleventh house which reigns over our friendships and close relationships, you should not expect good things to happen in this field. Either you will deceive or be deceived, or you will either impose a strain on your friends or be subject to their laying down the law.

This will be an interim of senseless involvement followed by quarrels--as well as passionate outpourings that turn into violent ruptures. beware of infatuation and sudden crazes for people. Such whirlwind attachments inevitably don't last long.

Period from 14 may to 12 june 2010

-1- During of entire period

Astrologically, the ninth house symbolizes the world of our distant exchanges, whether they consist of trips or higher thoughts. It is in this part of the sky that the Sun will be found.

The favourable position of this star can lead you to expect a new creative impulse which is likely to kindle your latent spiritual and artistic interests. you may find yourself either travelling outside your native land or in high-flown speculation far from your routine existence.

-2- During of entire period

You will probably be quite serious minded for Mercury is in a good position in the eighth house, that dealing with crises and change.

Your mind will be turned to thoughts of your destiny, death and dreams. Nevertheless, the solemnity of your thoughts will contribute to the way in which you conduct your affairs.

During this period you should be able to successfully conclude transactions and investments, particularly if they are linked to questions of inheritance.

-3- During of entire period

You would do well not to trust solely in your personal charms in trying to achieve professional or social success. The tenth house will be unfavourably influenced by Venus at this time.

We can thus presume that your coefficient of magnetism and attraction will be relatively inoperative during this period. Your success and your usual results are limited thereby. it's a dead period for expansion. Seek neither the approval of your superiors nor the votes of the public. This shall pass in good time.

-4- During of entire period

Atmosphere similar to that of the paragraph -3- of the previous period

* -5- Toward the beginning of this period

Chop, chop, you're in a mood to make a clean break with destructive habits and unprofitable relationships. You'll tend to reconsider, to question and to abrogate if necessary all the agreements (be they official contracts or merely tacit alliances) that link you with other people. Clearing out the dead wood certainly should prove beneficial to your personal expansion policy. Any new contacts should be more in keeping with your fondest hopes and aspirations.

* -6- Toward the beginning of this period

Present configurations indicate an important period for your personal development, your way of looking at things and your understanding of people. Your whole character could change subtly as the result of a sudden crisis--an event which would make you aware of some inner and outer realities whose existence you barely suspected. Depending on your situation at birth, you may experience this period as a momentary slump in your health and vigour, you may feel that your fundamental values have been attacked, but in the end the period could result in an inner reorientation of great help in future.

* -7- Toward the beginning of this period

This will probably prove to be a delicate period altogether. You'll tend to become harder to get along with, more demanding to colleagues and team-mates. You may find yourself irritably driving those around you on to greater efforts (purely in the name of efficiency of course.) but their resentment could actually cause more trouble than their inaptitude. Watch out for hurt feelings, and guard against them before the event, that is, think twice before blurting out any wounding remarks. Tension could arise with your spouse or other intimates unless you take care. The entire atmosphere is one of conflict and confrontation.

 -8- Towards the end of this period

A brief time favourable to your immediate ambitions as well as to fleeting feelings is in sight. Whether you take the initiative or whether circumstances propel you on, your innermost urges will know what's best. Make the best of this favourable time.

Period from 12 june to 11 july 2010

-1- During of entire period

Distant trips, relationships with foreign lands or with foreign peoples may mark these days when the Sun and Mercury are in the ninth house, that which governs long trips.

However, the meaning of this sector is also symbolical. Thus your creative imagination may be reawakened. You may consider problems of a higher nature or ideas which will lead you away from your usual way of thinking.

This is a good time in which to think big.

-2- During of entire period

The realm of friendship, dealt with by the eleventh house, will be under the beneficial influence of Venus, star of love. This planet's position means that you can expect a loving friendship to grow at this time, and that you will be well protected.

Now would be a good occasion to see artist friends or at least circulate in an artistic atmosphere. Your social life and affinity with others will develop harmoniously and you will experience deep feelings of friendliness and tenderness. indeed, in the case of one of your friends, such emotion may develop into something quite serious and long-lasting.

-3- During of entire period

Your weak will and your discouragement will manifest themselves in a series of impulsive and foolish acts. You will have to suffer the effects of this chaotic atmosphere so long as Mars in a discordant position influences the twelfth house which governs the world of trials and tribulations. Your aggression will awaken the dislike and hostility of others.

Hidden foes, secret plots and an atmosphere of intrigue could flare up into open conflict. there is the risk that you may "ask for trouble" through a lack of control over your overwhelming nervous energy.

Period from 11 july to 10 august 2010

-1- During of entire period

The tenth house covers the social world, your career, reputation and honours. It is in this part of the sky that the Sun will be at this time.

As this is a favourable position, it promises to be an excellent period in which to improve your social or professional position. It is a period of success. Your will to power is in this case in harmony with the world in which it evolves.

Successes will raise you and confirm you in your job. If you yourself are not working, the luck predicted for this period will come to your partner.

-2- During of entire period

Friendly contacts and the help stemming from friendships--in other words the realm covered by the eleventh house--will benefit from Mercury's benign presence in the sector.

At this time emotion will have little bearing on your relationships since your behaviour will be dictated more by your head than your heart. and this is all to the good. Furthermore, your best interests will be looked out for by capable and influential friends.

-3- During of entire period

With both Venus and Mars in the twelfth house, the sector which governs ordeal and exile, you should experience a tendency to handle your own heart and those of others roughly.

You will have trouble expressing your emotions and tend to hide your drives and impulses. This restraint may also be experienced on a social level, those about you disapproving some attachment you have formed, or the contingencies of life preventing you from meeting someone.

You will inwardly rebel against such obstacles but your aggressive drives will be met with indifference.

 -4- Toward the beginning of this period

There are some very delicate influences at play during this period affecting your vitality and efficiency to varying adverse degrees.

You may feel a gnawing sense of anxiety, of unpleasant realities ahead that you have yet to face. You may feel that you've been imposed upon at a time when you lacked the energy or wherewithal to do anything about it. Guilt feelings may hound you--guilt, to be sure, about something you did or failed to do long ago and which it is impossible to rectify now. Try to mobilize your strength enough to accomplish what obviously needs doing right now.

According to the position of Jupiter from 30 august to 27 december 2008

Jupiter's presence in the fourth house, the section representative of roots : home, family, will be likely to have good repercussions in the field of one's private life. Remember it's an ace up your sleeve to value the already healthy family environment, to make it more fertile, rich, blessed with simplicity, quite possibly improving, if possible, the relationships at the heart of one's home or towards one's parents.

You'll feel a stronger and freer attachment, in a loving climate, clearing up the future with an optimistic view. You'll give back to your roots in affinity with one's family history, one's past. The putting down of roots could also be material, with an improvement to your habitat : there is the possibility of real estate acquisitions or a move, if not organising the current residence, or some upgrading could happen in such favourable conditions.

The interest of existence will in any case take on the intimate cell, in terms of the pleasure of being home, in a more loving context where you can bloom better, in the eyes of those who love you, your parents or your own family. On the other hand, you could be put to sleep a bit, letting yourself be deluded by the familial tranquillity, by the softness of a private, more relaxed, facile situation. Thus your fighting spirit, your closed nature, firmness, rigid personality, particularly concerning your professional activities will be slackened, slightly losing some speed and motivation, without really risking any serious problems. All the same it'll be good to stay available and in tune with professional movements.

If your private life should find itself in the process of a deep crisis, this Jupiterian phase could, on the contrary, highlight the sickness, the emotional excitement, tending to bring to make the situation explode in order to arrive at a solution that finally clears matters up. Similarly, troubles or disorder in your insecure social position could sharply accentuate the insecurity and necessitate careful vigilance.

According to the position of Saturn from 30 august 2008 to 18 september 2009

In this period you'll be entering into a zone of being more sensitive to existential problems, due to the fact of the presence of Saturn in the section of moral tests, physical effort, worries, these being a function of the weak point in each.

These areas at stake could thus be different from case to case, going to legal, material, complex circumstances, to psychic states of anxiety, passing through being physically below par, lacking energy, even being fragile. Nevertheless, above all it'll be in its own sphere that you'll be affected, the moral climate being darkened by the weight of thought, self-reflection, negative impressions, the fact of regret, return to the past, the unhealthy upheaval at the hollow of your memories, the present becoming a synonym for failure, of being poorly carrying out, of stagnation, and limitation.

This slightly anguished gloominess, more or less depressing, could spread and reduce the organic resistance, health risking to be subject to some psychosomatic problems, but nevertheless not to be taken lightly. In other words, it's the annoyances of everyday life that'll be more difficult to bear, constraints seeming more stifling, the pressure of disagreements more stressful. Because of this, or even without any valid reason, a desire to isolate, to withdraw or of solitude could appear, in order to favour a need to re-immense oneself in one's heart of truth and undoubtedly to proceed to changes in judgement leading more or less to renunciations and sacrifices. This dive into more or physical "pain" will thus open a door towards wisdom, having the courage to take stock of oneself in order to better tackle life with strength and resulting in being more grown up from this phase.

According to the position of Jupiter from 27 december 2008 to 15 january 2010

Jupiter will be crossing through the fifth house throughout these weeks or month, and you'll find yourself at ease in this section of love, the nice things in life, vacations, the joys of motherhood or fatherhood, of games or have a gift for artistic matters.

Love life, especially, will bloom in the context of current ties or in a climate of new encounters, easy and nice relations, in an extension of your World of contacts in the largest sense, just as easily to friends, lovers, children. Obviously, there will be the risk of being too frivolous, carefree, getting involved in thoughtless affairs which are likely to upset well-established ties.

But if you keep your self-control, you could benefit from a beautiful wave of emotional satisfaction with those that you love. Agreements, understandings, attraction, could re-launch loves that were running out of steam; and in the case of the single, you will be awakened to the desire for a new conquest, having only to watch out for excesses. Along the same lines, you'll be in the mood for looking for the relaxation of leisure, distraction, being little inclined to dwell on grave concerns.

This taste for pleasure will be accompanied by contacts and exchanges; it could even go as far as trying your luck at gambling. In this context, you won't be disappointed in your speculations, luck being rather profitable, as long as you stay amused with reasonable sums because there could be risk involved with big sums. You'll be successful at board games. Just like artists, creators will arrange with all their assets to successfully devote yourself to recreational activities, while being careful not to overestimate yourself.

This passage will be favourable to the plan for children. Whoever wishes for motherhood or fatherhood will have their chance to see their wish fulfilled. Those who already have some will be happy with their relationships with them; it's a period of parental happiness.

According to the position of Saturn from 18 september 2009 to 10 august 2010

This is about a passage that aims to colour one's existence, in a deeper, more serious range, likely to bring someone closer to their essential nature.

The central core of the personality is the cause, which will be inclined to pass through a current of interiorisation, of a taciturn withdrawal, even being confronted with darkening waves; a current above all sensitive to the beginning of this period.

This withdrawal could proceed from a feeling of being fragile or vulnerable. Everyone will be concerned according to their weak point; for example one can feel it at the level of their lack of self-confidence, fear of failure; the other, by their difficulties communicating, their inhibitions, influencing misunderstandings with others, by an excess of inflexibility or intransigence. For others, it'll be translated by fatigue or a lack of vigour.

However, this movement of effort and interior retreat will reinforce their constructive resources. From this affronting to various worries or delays, the personality will be able to pull their self together, to strengthen, having thought about and having the necessary perspective to adopt reasonable solutions, to make strong, more or less severe, resolutions, in view of correcting the direction of their life, for example by getting rid of a bad habit, -like giving up smoking or overeating, excessive spending-, cleaning up their existence, becoming more spiritual, eliminating elements that are too burdensome, or bringing to term a difficult fight that started a long time ago, on a moral incline.

According to the position of Jupiter from 15 January to 14 May 2010

Throughout this passage, Jupiter will be moving through the sixth house, that of work and the demands of life, there will be a strong likelihood of obtaining professional conditions a bit more gratifying, easing up, in any case, a feeling of being under-utilised, of inferiority in the World of work; and the capacity to produce will be facilitated, increased.

You'll also be inclined to resolve the question of domestic daily chores more easily, felt as less onerous. From there a moral and better physical shape, more energetic, with a capacity to take initiative, to overcome obstacles, to consider interesting future projects. For the little that it was, health will be less worrisome, no longer obsessing on the subject. You should thus be in better shape if not in good shape; which shouldn't prevent you from taking care of your body : exercise, diet..., to be even better off in terms of your health.

Socially, the moment may have arrived to seize opportunities to better assert yourself in taking on unusual responsibilities. You'll learn to psychologically take on weight, to get out of a self-effacing attitude, discrete, perhaps unassertive. You'll tend to have more confidence in your personal values and to know how to put them in value, rejecting the annoyances of the professional environment or feeling supported more. For an employer, the process will generally end up better towards employees, and the service people; you'll succeed better at being understood, accepted, in creating good contacts, the tendency will be good for being assisted and being satisfied with one's personnel.

If you're attached to pets, you'll be inclined to more actively desire to get one and from such a decision the subject could feel happier. If not, a sick animal could start to heal and to bring back happiness and comfort to the homestead.

According to the position of Jupiter from 14 may to 10 august 2010

Particularly at the beginning of the above indicated period, Jupiter will bring its expansive tone to the World of the couple or the group, arousing a timely change, perhaps in a sense weakly determining the long-term but momentarily stimulating current aspirations.

From there, a much greater facility in communicating, permitting to let up on the brakes, unblocking inhibition and thus going more willingly towards others. The more relaxed and confident personality will thus contribute to increase exchanges, contacts, to provoking by its kind approach an opening up to social and love life.

An episode of the group situation will thus make light of the beginning of plans or new agreements, creating, shaping itself, enriched by powerful ideas and more fertile action. Some pending contracts could take shape, be launched and boosted and invigorated on a basis of more energetic and optimistic commitments. However, we recommend you rein in an enthusiasm too likely to over-evaluate situations and plans.

For a single person the conditions will be conducive to making a more or less interesting encounter, likely to end in an affair, a durable attachment but the current could also lead on to wish to confirm, consolidate or even sit on an already established link, a source of joy. For a couple, there'll be a new lease on life of married life, additional fullness of feelings, even if it's only temporary, the understanding can't help but be reinforced.

This passage is equally favourable to the happy outcome of a trial.
